Queen Cutlery and Dan Burke are proud to offer you these beautiful English Gentleman's Jackknives. This is the second offering that we have done together. The first was "The Real Cattleman's Knife" and has been very popular. Quantities are limited so if you would like to order The Real Cattleman's Knife, get your order in before we are sold out.

The "English Gentleman's Jackknife" is being offered in Presentation Grade White Mother of Pearl and Presentation Grade Black Lip Mother of Pearl. These beautiful knives are patterned after the original English Gentleman's Fruit Knives. Just as they did long ago, we have paid great attention to detail! The Mother of Pearl is carved around the whole circumference of the handle along with steel center liner that has a coined edge and threaded bolsters. Both the long spear and pen blades are made of BG-42 steel that has been cryoquench heat treated for the sharpest edge available. Length of the knife is 3" closed.

These are a "must have" and we are certain that you will find them a asset to your collection or pocket.
