

Joe Pardue & Queen Cutlery Announce The Revised Hawkbill

Limited to only 300 Knives

RV-1W Hawkbill

4.125" LENGTH CLOSED

JOE PARDUE

This is the reworked Joe Pardue Hawkbill. Made with Genuine Sambar Torched Stag on Nickel Silver Liners. With Nickel Silver Bolsters and Pins, and Queen Embossed Nickel Silver Shield, this knife is designed for the True Collector.

The Hawkbill blade is forged from the strongest and most durable D-2 steel on the market. Hosting a Joe Pardue tang stamp on the front and Queen Cutlery tang stamp on the back, this Hawkbill symbolizes the hand-made craftsmanship Joe Pardue and Queen Cutlery brand into every knife. Drilled lanyard with leather cord allows for easy access.

Ranger Knives was created and operated by blade smith Justin Gingrich. He served 10 years on active duty, in such honored units as the 3rd Ranger Battalion (92-96), 20th Special Forces Group (96-98) and the Ranger Training Brigade (98-01). Justin is also a police academy graduate. He also served in Iraq with a civilian security firm in 2005. For two months, Justin worked in post-Katrina, New Orleans providing much needed security for the private sector. He also instructs private security contractors, U. S. soldiers, State Department employees and civilians in the art of patrolling, demolitions, shooting and CQB techniques.

Justin designs all Ranger Knives branded product with the professional user in mind. His military background and hands-on experience qualifies him to assess the needs of emergency services, law enforcement and military professionals. This ensures the tool's ability to not only survive but to excel where others fail.

If you would like to discuss his designs further, you can chat with Justin on one of our industries most active forums — www.knifeforums.com.
